A vibrant passionate and very energetic young man who loves to work with vulnerable people both young and old. I find joy in giving my full support where I can make a difference in people's lives, hence I chose right from school to join the care sector to give my care service s freely to disadvantaged people with mental capacity and physical disabilities including assisting them daily living activities and household tasks. I hold a Home Based Care certificate. I am currently doing voluntary work at an old age home to further my skill base and experience. I am able to assist families with general care of their loved ones. I possess good listening skills and I can work well in a team. I am very patient, very calm and I relate well with people. I am neat in appearance and i am willing to learn more about care giving and on the elderly and also in children. I look forward to meeting my new companion.
